2021

From the Desk of the Consul General and Counselor for Consular Affairs Michael Garcia

A belated welcome to 2021! It's a new year and while some things changed, others did not. We have a new U.S. president. On January 20 we witnessed the inauguration of the 46th President of the United States, President Joe Biden. We also have a new head of U.S. foreign affairs. Secretary of State Antony J. Blinken was sworn in on January 26. They have expressed their commitment to Americans living abroad. The protection of our U.S. citizens overseas remains the highest priority of the U.S. Mission in Saudi Arabia and the U.S. Government. Our dedicated consular staff at the Embassy in Riyadh and Consulates General in Jeddah and Dhahran are always here to support and assist you.

Some things, however, have not changed. We remind U.S. citizens in the Kingdom of the Department of State's Travel Advisory for Saudi Arabia including the threat of missile and drone attacks. You can see the Travel Advisory here. You can also read more regarding safety and security in the following pages of this newsletter. And while vaccines have brought some hope to the COVID-19 situation, the pandemic continues. This pandemic continues to cast a long shadow over everything we do, and requirements and restrictions remain in place everywhere we go – in the Kingdom and overseas. Remember, the U.S. implemented testing requirements for entry into the United States on January 26. It is important that we all remain mindful about what we can do to keep ourselves, our families, and our communities healthy and safe.

And one more thing that doesn't change and we can't avoid – taxes! More on that in this issue.

Happy 2021!

Mike

Inauguration of the 46th President of the United States Joe Biden

FAREWELL

A FAREWELL MESSAGE FROM U.S. AMBASSADOR JOHN ABIZAID

It has been my distinct honor to represent the American people and the United States of America in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Together with all of you – the American Community in the Kingdom – we have strengthened our ties with our Saudi partners and advanced U.S. objectives and priorities in this country and around the region. Your support, tremendous commitment to this bilateral relationship, and warm friendship are among the high points of my and my wife Kathy’s time in Saudi Arabia. We are truly grateful to so many of you with whom we have had a chance to meet – in person and virtually – for the many wonderful memories, which we will carry with us to our home in Nevada.

It is indeed time for Kathy and me to say good-bye and wish you a very fond farewell. As our country prepares to inaugurate President-elect Biden, our Mission has been supporting the work of the U.S. government to ensure a smooth transition to a new Administration. At the same time, we have continued our close cooperation with the Saudi government and its people to deepen the strong partnership between the United States and Saudi Arabia. Many of you will recall our celebrations last year in Riyadh, Jeddah, and Dhahran of the 75th anniversary of the USS Quincy meeting between President Roosevelt and King Abdulaziz Al Saud. This meeting launched an enduring partnership, which continues to underpin our many successful shared efforts to enhance our countries’ prosperity, security, and mutual friendship. Our Mission will carry forward this important work in the months and years ahead with your support. This morning, when I departed Saudi Arabia, Martina Strong, whom many of you know, took over the leadership of our Mission as Chargé d’Affaires.

As always, the protection of our U.S. citizens overseas remains the highest priority of our Mission and the U.S. Government. The dedicated staff at the Embassy in Riyadh and Consulates General in Jeddah and Dhahran are always here to support and assist you. I encourage the American Citizen community to remain mindful about what we can do to keep ourselves, our families, and our communities healthy and safe.

Thank you all, and especially our citizen liaison volunteers, for your friendship and support.

Farewell and Best Wishes,

Ambassador John Abizaid

Continued Threat of Drone and Missile Attacks in KSA

The U.S. Mission to Saudi Arabia reminds U.S. citizens of the Department of State’s Travel Advisory for Saudi Arabia, which states the need to “exercise increased caution in Saudi Arabia due to terrorism and the threat of missile and drone attacks on civilian targets.” Extremist groups and regional actors have conducted destructive missile and drone attacks against a variety of targets including critical infrastructure, military facilities, airports, and energy facilities throughout the country, as well as vessels in the Red Sea shipping lanes. These attacks occur with little or no warning. The Islamic Republic of Iran has supplied Yemen-based Houthis and other regional proxy groups with weapons, including drones, missiles, and rockets. Houthi militants continue to plan and conduct attacks against locations in Saudi Arabia. Violence associated with Iran-supported groups represents a significant threat. U.S. citizens living and working near military bases and critical civilian infrastructure are at heightened risk of missile and drone attack.

The Travel Advisory urges U.S. citizens to avoid travel to areas within 50 miles of the Saudi-Yemen border. It further notes that the International Airport in Abha is a frequent target of cross-border attacks by regional actors, and that U.S. Mission personnel and their families are not permitted to use the airport without Chief of Mission approval. You can read the full Travel Advisory here.

The U.S. Mission urges American citizens in the Kingdom to review precautions to take in the event of an attack.

Actions to Take:

- If you hear a loud explosion or if sirens are activated, immediately seek cover.
- If in a home or a building, go to the lowest level of the structure with the fewest exterior walls, windows, and openings; close any doors and sit near an interior wall, away from any windows or openings.
- If you are outdoors, immediately seek cover in a hardened structure; if that is not possible, lie down and cover your head with your hands.
- Be aware that even if the incoming missile or drone is intercepted, falling debris represents a significant risk.
- After the attack, stay away from any debris, and monitor major news outlets for official guidance.

TAXES

It's Tax Time! If you need assistance, please contact IRS.gov or see a tax specialist. The Embassy and Consulates are unable to provide tax advice.

If you are a U.S. citizen or resident alien, the rules for filing taxes are generally the same whether you are in the United States or abroad. However, overseas tax filers are eligible for an automatic extension. See IRS.gov for details. Your worldwide income is subject to U.S. income tax, regardless of where you reside.

UNPAID TAXES MAY RESULT IN REVOCATION OR ⚠ DENIAL OF A PASSPORT ⚠

If you have seriously delinquent tax debt, IRC § 7345 authorizes the IRS to certify that debt to the State Department for action. The State Department generally will not issue a passport to you after receiving certification from the IRS.

Upon receiving certification, the State Department will deny your passport application and/or may revoke your current passport. If your passport application is denied or your passport revoked and you are overseas, the State Department may issue you a limited validity passport good only for direct return to the United States.

You can find more information on the Internal Revenue Service's website.
